

Orange County Family Empowerment Centers and Family Resource Centers

What is a Family Empowerment Center?

Family Empowerment Centers offer parents and guardians of children and young adults with disabilities access to accurate information, specialized training and peer-to-peer support in their communities. There are 14 centers in California to serve families with children and young adults with disabilities. They help people from ages 3 to 18, and young adults from ages 19 to 22. Young adults must have had an individualized education plan before they turn 18.

Orange County's Family Empowerment Center is:

What is a Family Resource Center?

A Family Resource Center is a community-based, family-friendly program. Family resource centers offer help to parents, families and children to locate and use needed services. Some can assist in many languages. They may link people to newsletters, resource libraries, websites, call line lists and referrals for parents and others. The centers differ from each other. Many of these places are open to everyone and some focus on a few groups.
